JOHNNY WONDER

Q. WHICH IS THE WORLD'S LARGEST LAKE?

SUSAN CORBIN, OF CINCINNATI, OH., WINS A PRIZE FOR THIS QUESTION.

A. Imagine a lake almost as big as the entire state of California. That's the size of the Caspian Sea. It is the largest lake in the world. It is called a sea because its water is salty. Most of this lake is in the Soviet Union. In the lake there are many fish, including sturgeon. The sturgeon's black eggs comprise much of the world's caviar supply. The Caspian is slowly shrinking. The rivers that empty into it, including the famous Volga River, are being drained by agriculture and industry, and they bring it less water than it loses by evaporation.

You can win a World Almanac if your question is selected. Send your name and age to JOHNNY WONDER, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 1238, Santa Cruz, CA 95061.
